

T10. S-World™ Angelwing OPTIONS

By Nick Ray Ball 17th January 2022

I have just paused the paper on L%Š-ŘÉS™Ć—2022&POP to write this new paper, after starting to listen to all of Lord of the Rings again when the following idea occurred.

To Own Equity in T10. Angelwing one must already have a Life 2.9 (in one way or another) AI.

This helps to trim the field reasonably.

A question I have expected from Peter Theil is: "What technology do I recommend the most?"

My answer had been (obviously) Technology 7. It has the greatest 'X' forecast and Peter specializes in finding good monopolies.

But I'm not sure in T7 or for that matter T8 will be companies they may be algorithms and lawmakers. With little profit return, albeit they do have significant votes. You can call this side of the business The Sienna Foundation. Equal in votes but on a war footing we find T10 Subsystem 1. QuESC which to cut a long story short applies the Heisenberg uncertainty principle to the S-World AI by combining it with human partners.

To put it in BSG terms, The Sienna Foundation is the Government and QuESC is the Galactica and the fleet. But whilst in times of war which we certainly are in right now, QuESC can veto or nullify any Sienna Foundation directive, so long as this happens rarely.

Getting back to "What technology do I recommend the most? For Peter Theil"

Because of start small and monopolise, I first thought of T1 to T4 The S-World Platform, but later redivided it into its own technologies, then I thought that T1 and T3 would make the most sense, and was working on the presentation for T1 S-Web™, which is going so well, now with 50 or so cool relevant links, it's looking good and interesting, and for T3 that's a few weeks away.

However, with a burning desire to listen to Lord of The Rings again, back-to-back, and with thought to The Palantir, I came up with

To Own Equity in T10. Angelwing one must already have a Life 2.9 (in one way or another) AI.

This means that the desired co-founders listed on

50 | 50

16 6.125% equity options available

4 for The Sienna Foundation

4 for QuESC

I keep 4.

4 are raising money

So The Sienna Foundation recruits Elon Musk (Special Projects) and Bill Gates
And QuESC recruits Peter Thiel, Mark Zuckerberg, Larry Page
All have equal seats

Or go back to the original idea just an hour past, we follow LRTR,

If all else is even let us take this opportunity to improve the T4 Film. S-World starts with the fellowship then looks to The Palantir in Film 2. The Palantir and Film 3 The Eye. Remembering that in The Sienna Project at the end of the trilogy Sienna saves the entire universe from The Eye, based on Lord of the Rings. And we have the most angelic storyline that 11 years ago

Something just happened, I was looking for the spelling of the name I found for Aragorn Skye, searched for Skye on my Windows 10 machine and found to my surprise, then joy, but also sadness, but then joy, I found the speech I made at Sienna's service. Which as you will read is very relevant to the conversation.

Here it is:

My Memorial Speech for Sienna Skye

By Nick Ray Ball – Early August 2010

I arrived in Cape Town in January 2001, attracted by its natural energy, I was ready to start a family and thought no place on earth was more suitable for a child to grow up, beautiful beaches, spectacular mountain's and an aura of happiness not found in England. Since day one I was trying to have a child, but I was not blessed, I was born without religious views thrust upon me and allowed to choose my own path, to believe or not believe. And a couple of years ago I started to consolidate my various opinions into a definitive belief that there was more to this world than just life and death, the human conciseness could not just end. I like to think it is no coincidence that soon after that I was blessed with Sienna. I had led a good life, of course, I could have done more to help others and maybe I should have but all in all, I felt I deserved this gift from my god.

And so, the question that I and probably everyone here asks, why, why was she taken from us. Two more devoted parents you could not find, every second spent with Sienna was a gift.

When I was 17 the first time, I considered God was hearing a theory by David Ike, I cannot remember the specifics, but the gist was the human conciseness comes back again and again at different times and the mystery of the universe was a gigantic jigsaw puzzle where every being needed to be placed at the right time. The only way I can make sense of Sienna's departure is to consider this theory and just accept that it was not the right time for Sienna, as a friend wrote "Her soul will return to you when she is ready again." It is this belief that keeps me going keeps me from hating the world and allows me to be at peace. I had been talking to my god so often before she went, thanking him for my happiness and asking him to help others that I know I have not been punished, I also know that we mere mortals should not try to understand gods plan, rather just accept it.

I loved to go out with Sienna, we really enjoyed walking with the pram on Hout Bay beach, off-roading through the little river and playing in the sand-dunes. She loved Kirstenbosch gardens and she really loved the aquarium looking with her bright blue eyes at all the fishes. The day she departed we had planned to go to penguin beach and see Cape Point, the following day Cait and I were to go with her to the Winelands for the first time.

What I loved most was Sienna's smile, each one was a gift and she was so very generous, she'd look at me with her mother's bright blue eyes and as the corners of her mouth turned upwards a euphoric ray of happiness was injected into my heart, this is how I will remember her and I will remember her in my heart forever.

Emotional stuff and the backdrop for all that it S-World as not long after writing this I started on the philanthropic software project created for VIRGIN now Doc ID 01.01 but after the first initial positive reaction an elevation from Cape Town office to London committee, I had the Idea for S-World and then the movie treatment that I called The Sienna Project, originally told on this page Doc: ID 1.02 Chapter 2. The Spartan Theory (2011), best seen in its updated ID 01.02b <https://www.s-world.org/The-Spartan-Theory.php> 01.02b

Moving up to date, returning to the fellowship,

If possible, to assist the storyline it would be nice if we could organize the initial gathering of desired co-founders following the LOTR timescale so first

We must start with 2 (Bilbo and Gandalf)

Then drop those two and add the 4 conspirator hobbits, then add Aragon.

Next is created the fellowship, so adding 3 more from the selected options from the https://www.s-world.org/The_Republican.php#FF-Presenation-Part-4 Economists, Co-Founders and Countries

The choices of co-founders all have possible future conscious AI's except maybe Elon Musk, who is exempt from the T10 must-have AI because his challenge with Jack Ma led to research that led me properly understand AI and without that conversation, we would not even be having this conversation.

Elon can add greatly to T10. S-World Angelwing.
